Brexit Frequently Asked Questions for retail clients

You and your bank

What does a 'no-deal' Brexit mean for me as a private account holder of a bank in Luxembourg?

For private account holders of a Luxembourgish bank, nothing changes in principle. Your bank has prepared for a Brexit. In consultation with the supervisors, the bank will implement changes in order to be able to continue the service as much as possible. If something changes, you will be informed about this by your bank. You can also consult the information on your bank's website.
